

Invitation to join

I believe that what the Peace and Justice Support Network (PJSN) is doing is essential to keeping Christ's peace and justice alive in Mennonite Church USA. I am going to send PJSN a yearly donation. I think that money talks, and where I send my money says something to God about where my commitments are. It's time for me to focus energy on strengthening the voice of Christian peace and justice in this fractured and grieving world. I could do that alone, but in our Anabaptist world there is something to be said for doing things together as a community. PJSN is community. Knowing that you also have a heart for peace and justice making, I invite you to join me in this little "community of peace-funders." I'm thinking of sending PJSN $_____. How about matching that?

The Peace and Justice Support Network strengthens Mennonite Church USA's commitment to peace and justice by equipping persons called to this ministry and by encouraging the church to embody and communicate Christ's reconciling way. Our voice speaks words of healing and hope and calls for an organized response to the violence and brokenness in our world.

The Peace and Justice Support Network created materials for congregations responding to the war on Iraq and

- provides resources that inspire all ages, including Pray for Peace/Act for Peace flags and "Peace takes guts" t-shirts;
- manages a web site chockfull of resources with 1000 pages downloaded on a day;
- produces worship materials and bulletin inserts on timely themes; and
- publishes Dove Tales and Olive Branches, free inspiration for the long haul.
